Final Order No. 54702/2014, dated 01.12.2014

Per Mr. R.K. Singh :

Revenue has filed appeal along with Stay Application against Order-in-Appeal No. CC(A)CUS/ICD/303/2014, dated 24.04.2014.

2. In this case, the respondents were allowed vide Dy. Commissioner's letter dated 24.03.2014 provisional release of the seized goods imported by them under Bill of Entry No.4491487 on payment of differential duty of Rs.21,02,305/- ^{and} on execution of bank guarantee of Rs.30,00,000/-, bond for full value of goods (Rs.88,37,040/-) and submission of solvency certificate. The importers being aggrieved by the allegedly harsh conditions of provisional release filed appeal before commissioner (Appeals) on the ground that such orders are ~~applicable~~ ^{appealable} as held by High Court of Delhi in W.P. No.1670/2014.

3. The commissioner (Appeals) vide the impugned order held as under:-

"4. On perusal of provisional release order, it is seen that declared value of goods, nature of offence, are not forthcoming in the said letter. Furthermore, at what level the decision to allow provisional release has been taken, is also not forthcoming. Since provisional release orders are appealable, these are required to be speaking orders. The impugned order has also been issued, without hearing the appellant.

5. Therefore, the letter of provisional release is set aside, with a direction to the field officer for issue of a quick provisional release order within 21 days of receipt of this order and also taking into consideration case laws, available on the subject."

4. Revenue is in appeal on the ground that the Hon'ble High Court judgement is at variance with CBEC letter F.No.415/164/2013-CUS VI, dated 04.09.2013 which holds that orders under section 110A of Customs Act, 1962 are not appealable and that they are filing appeal against the decision of High Court of Delhi.

5. Heard both sides. High Court of Delhi in the case of W.P.No.1670/2014 has held as under:-

"Even though the show-cause notice has not been concededly issued yet the nature of the orders, passed by the adjudicating authority or the Deputy Commissioner as in this case do have consequence. As such these orders cannot be characterized as merely administrative but made under specific provisions of statutory regulations. They fall within the description of order or decision even on the question of the appropriateness of conditions, with respect to provisional clearance and, therefore, this Court is of the opinion that the impugned order is appealable."

6. In the light of the order of the High Court of Delhi, which has not been stayed or set aside, the Board's circular dated 04.09.2013 is of no consequence. Merely because an SLP is proposed to be filed against the said orders of the High Court of Delhi does not in any way eclipse its binding force. Thus, the impugned order suffers from no appealable infirmity. Consequently, Revenue's appeal is dismissed. The stay application is also dismissed as infructuous.
